

HT Daily update for families, 23.04.2020

★ Good morning all.

★ I hope you are feeling brighter than the grey day that greets us this morning!

★ I know that a lot of you have received your activation codes for your Seesaw account and are already exploring this new platform.

★ We are all really excited about the launch on the 27th of April which is when your teachers will be posting their first 'Daily Challenge' (name tbc and any suggestions welcomed!).

★ Until then the teachers are doing the same as you, exploring the platform and developing their skills with using it effectively before getting in touch with you on Monday 27th.

★ We are really looking forward to seeing all the learning that is happening in your new home learning environments!

★ The Senior Leadership Team will continue to keep in touch via Twitter as well as my Daily Updates through ParentPay.

★ Just to clarify Seesaw is not being used by us as a platform for parents and carers to communicate with staff. It's key aim is to engage the children and their teachers.

★ If you have any queries about Seesaw or anything else, please continue to use our admin account (admin@royalhigh-pri.edin.sch.uk) where the Senior Leadership Team are on hand to help.

★ The Senior Leadership Team are working through every pupil and sending out their Seesaw home learning codes individually which is no mean feat as you can well imagine! Each child will have their code by Friday so we are all ready to start our Seesaw journey on Monday the 27th.

★ The first week will be a trial for us so please bear with us as we navigate this new model of learning and teaching.

★ I hope you are keeping well and remembering that all of these supports we are putting in place are exactly that - supports, not expectations.

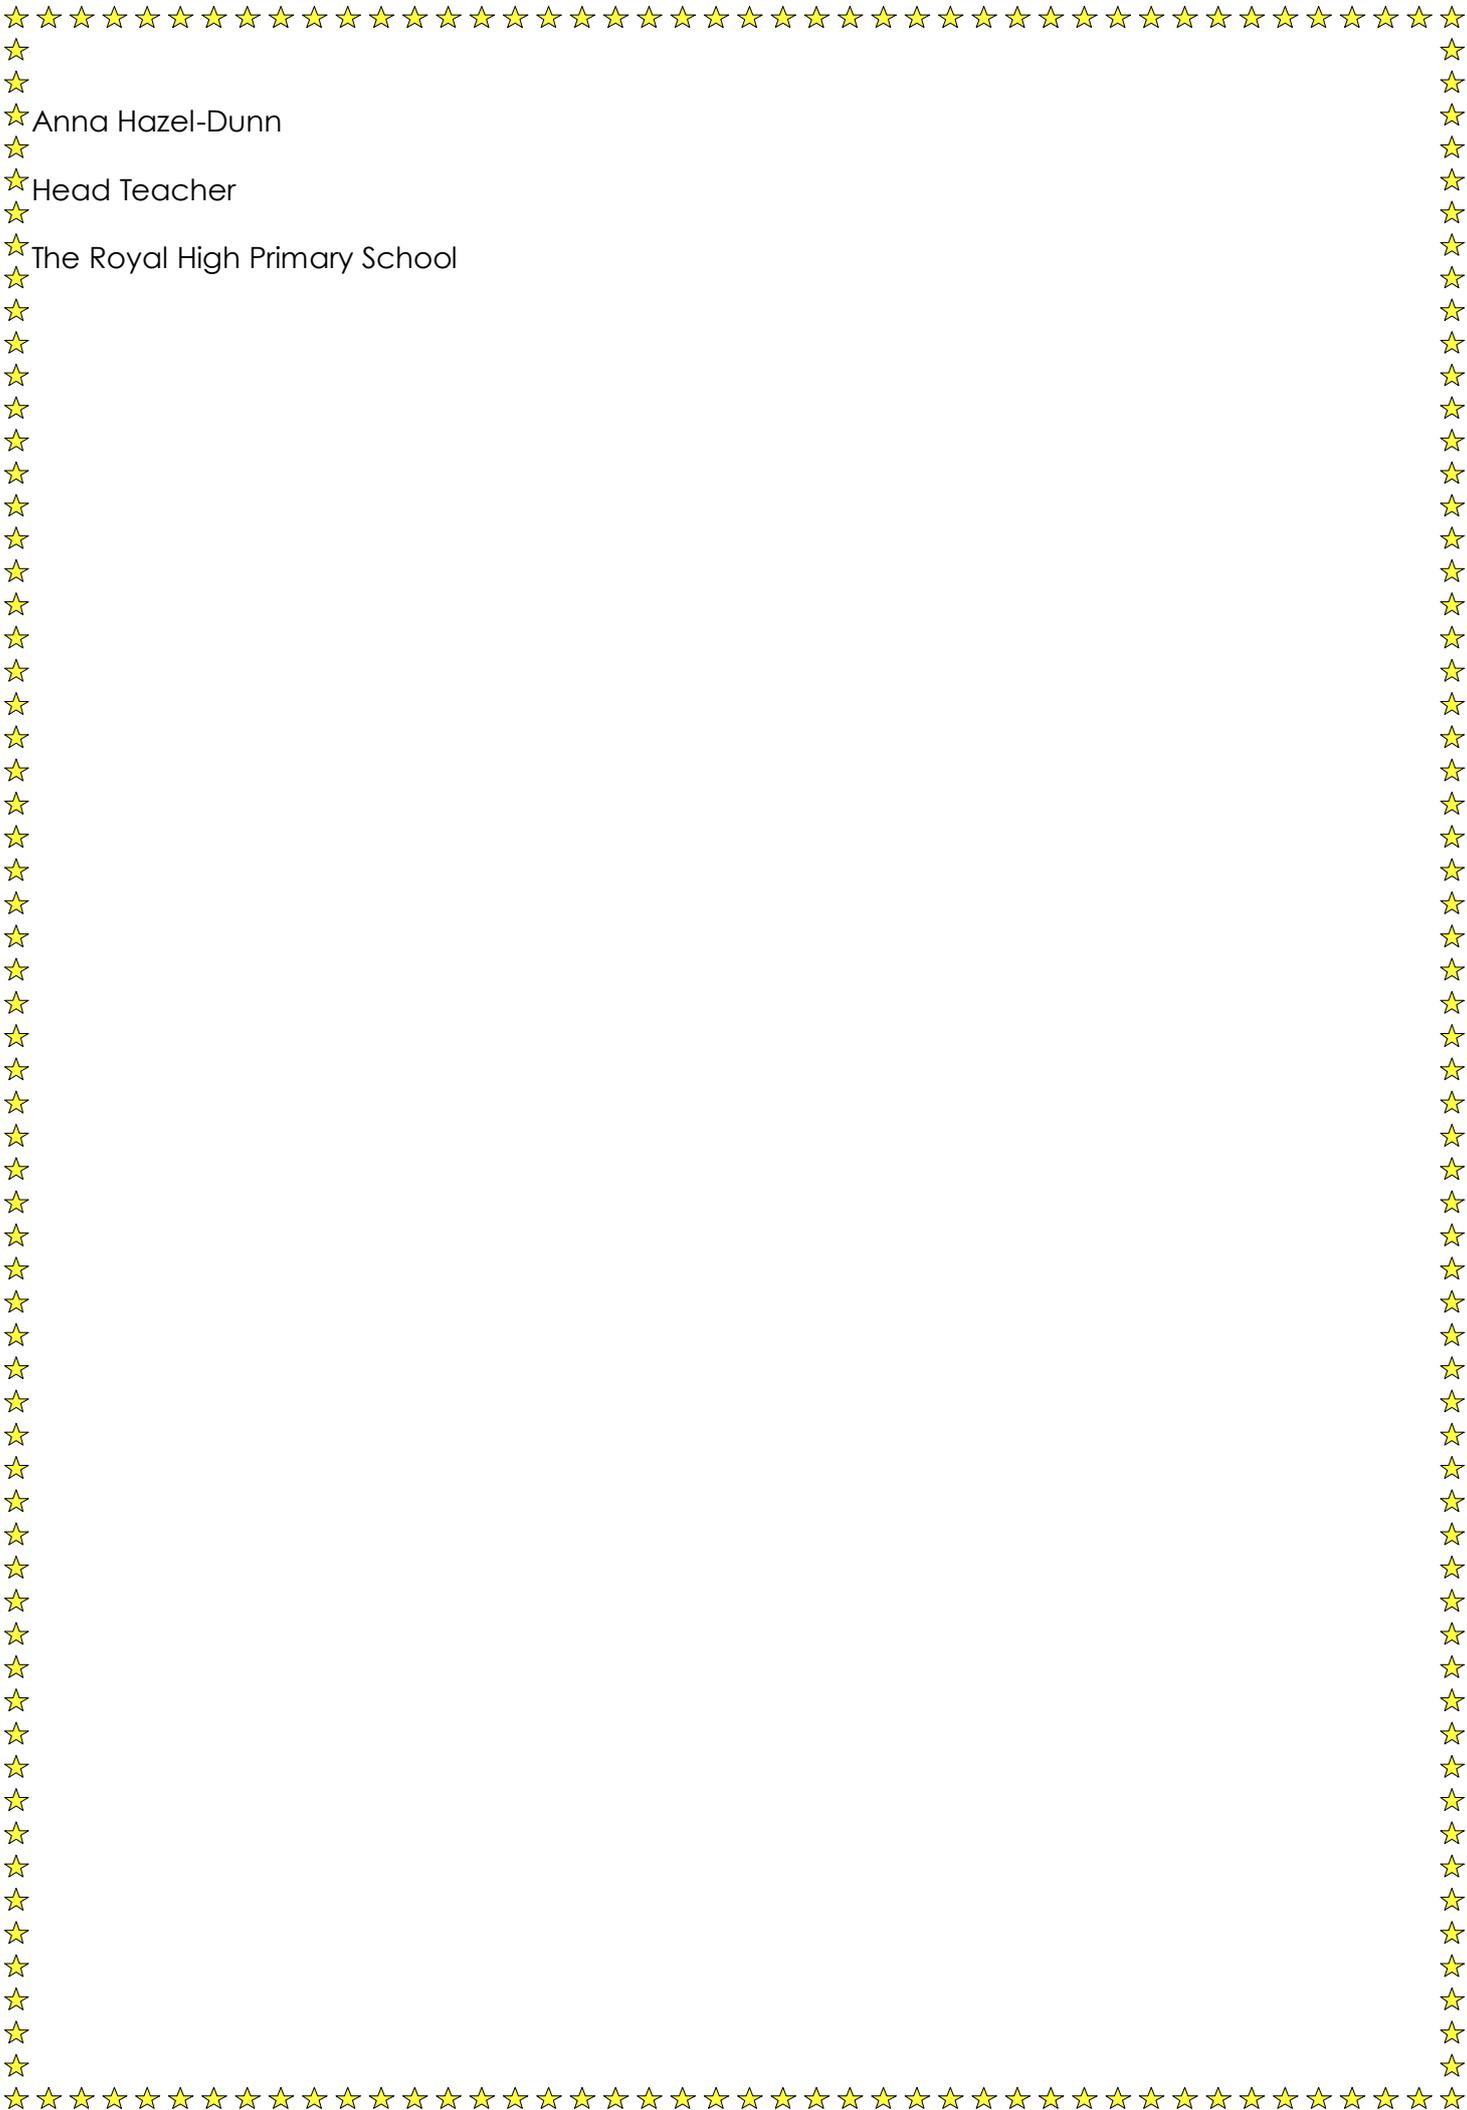

★ Be kind to yourself and your children. Do what you can do and be thankful for what you can achieve no matter if it's just one thing a day.

★ I look forward to hearing from you all in the coming days and getting a real insight into how you are all getting on.

★ Keep well and stay in touch.

★ Best wishes.
