

HT's Daily Update for Families, 04.05.2020

★ Good morning all.

★ I hope you had a lovely weekend and managed to enjoy the sunshine. Just as well we did with this rain today!

★ Although it is our staff inservice day today, I wanted to check in to make sure you are aware of what the arrangements are for today.

★ Your children are more than welcome to upload posts to Seesaw but as our staff will be involved in evaluating our School Improvement plan today and staff meetings, they will not be commenting.

★ Today would be a good day to practise uploading a single post with multiple learning tasks so the teachers can see all of the fantastic work that has been happening at home.

★ The Seesaw evaluation surveys are still live on SurveyMonkey and I'd really appreciate you and your children taking a couple of minutes to share your thoughts on the first week of using it.

★ As mentioned in the initial communication about Seesaw, your Senior Leadership Team have been working away to prepare a families contact list so one of us can give you a quick call just to check in and see how you are getting on.

★ This is a big task so will be happening over the next couple of weeks. Mrs Evans, Miss Le Tissier, Miss Stewart and I are really looking forward to hearing how all of you are getting on.

★ As an activity suggestion for today, I wanted to draw your attention to the fact that this week is deaf awareness week and encourage your children to have a go at learning some British Sign Language. Miss Le Tissier is going to upload a post on Twitter with all of the information about how to access this. It would be great to see how you are getting on so please send us tweets that we can share.

★ It would be ok if your child wants to include the BSL they have learnt in their Feel Good Friday post bearing in mind their teacher might not comment on it if it's not their chosen task. They will certainly be interested to see nonetheless.

★ So now that my brain is back to full working order after my Friday date disaster, I just wanted to confirm that this Friday, the 8th of May is a holiday. There will be no daily challenge set by your teachers or comments made on that day.

★ I will also be taking the time away from the laptop but please know that in an emergency you can email the admin account which I will be checking at points during the day just in case you need anything urgently. I will remind you of this later in the week.

★ Although the rain is making up for its absence today after the lovely days of sunshine we have been enjoying, I hope you can find lots of indoor activities at do at home or indeed get your

★ wellies and waterproofs on to brave the Scottish weather. Sure you will be able to send us some ★ great photos of your outdoor explore today!

★ I will be working in the Hub tomorrow so my daily update will be later than normal.

★ There is a Parent Council Meeting at 7.30pm on Zoom tomorrow night so please get in touch with ★ our Parent Council team if you'd be interested in coming along. Their email address is ★ rhpsparents@gmail.com. I know they'd love to hear from you.

★ Here's looking forward to the rainbow after the rain!

★ Keep well and stay in touch.
