

Good morning.

I hope you are all well on this sunny morning.

I am sorry to have to start the day with an apology.

As you are aware, in our haste to give you the information about the staggered starts and finish times, our calculations omitted to include Fridays.

This has a knock on effect on the timings across the week so your Senior Leadership Team are going to be working on amending these today.

I can only apologise for any inconvenience caused and will ensure that we provide you with the correct times by the end of today.

This is a period of firsts and new learning for all of us and I thank you for your patience, support and understanding as we work through ironing out any issues.

Take care, keep well and speak soon.

Anna
